Nutricote is an ideal fertilizer for top dressing plants. It ensures that nutrients are always available to your plants. After all, you don't eat all your meals for the week at one sitting – your plants don't want to either! Nutricote is the professional grower's choice – it won't burn your plants!

We use Nutricote in conjunction with Dyna-Gro fertilizer in our Orchid Nutrition and Organic Pest Management Program available at www.lonestorchids.com. If you choose to follow our program, reduce the application rates below by 1/2 teaspoon.

Application rates are given for orchids. Adjust rates according to the type of plant you are feeding. For example, Heliconia are heavy feeders and would require about four times as much Nutricote for the same pot size. For more information on application rates, see the Nutricote and Nutricote Total Information Sheets available at www.lonestorchids.com.
